

Introductions Tin plated copper wire:

Customized Tin plated oxygen-free copper wire and SCR copper wire provides superior characteristics as corrosion resistance and assistance in welding. The high-class copper materials we are using can be used for the drawing process of extremely thin wire.

Product application:

It is often used in calendaring wires and lead-in wires of electronic components.

